

Facilitating Networking Opportunities for your Mentee

Networking is an important component of the mentoring relationship. The Mentoring Partnership recommends that Mentors facilitate at least five introductions for their mentee.

This document suggests ways you can help your mentee prepare for networking, as well as tips on who they could meet to expand their network.

Create a networking plan with your mentee using some of the ideas below:

- Help your mentee develop and practice a 30-second ‘elevator’ speech that gives a concise summary of their background and the type of employment they are looking for Your attitude should be positive and enthusiastic
- Brainstorm a list of networking events they can attend (i.e. associations, seminars, conferences, job fairs, etc.).
- Explore how to use social media for networking. Review your mentees’ profile, identify groups for them to join and where to search for jobs and build online connections.
- Refer your mentee to Professional Immigrant Networks (www.networksforimmigrants.ca) to meet immigrants in the same profession and/or cultural community, build social support and expand their network.

Expand your mentee’s network by facilitating some introductions. Your mentee will have a chance to practice his or her elevator speech and it will provide both of you with feedback from other perspectives.
